Foreword

THIS book is published with the intent of catching a glimpse of the ever-moving Rollins in order to call to mind what our memories may lose.

Tomokan

To

Charles Atwood Campbell

Dean of the Knowles Memorial Chapel

We, the Senior Class and the Tomokan Staff of Rollins College, dedicate this book, inasmuch as we believe that he lightens the darkness of which Henry Ward Beecher thought when he wrote: "The clearest window ever fashioned, if it is barred by spider's webs, and hung over with carcasses of dead insects, so that the sunlight cannot find its way through, is of little use. === Now the church is God's window, and if it is so obscured by errors that its light becomes darkness, how great is that darkness?"

Administration

Discipline

President Hamilton Holt

NO HUMAN being can hope to go through life and amount to anything without discipline. He who expects to have license to do exactly what he wants, when and where he wants, is due to have some severe jolts. Discipline may be imposed by Nature, by society, or by ourselves.

As infants, each one of us are under one hundred per cent outside discipline, but as we grow older this imposed discipline is gradually relaxed, until as mature men and women we approach but never quite reach one hundred per cent self-discipline. The average person seems to be ready for self-discipline at about twenty-one. The United States constitution fixes this age as the date when we can exercise the responsible right of suffrage and when we ought to be able to support ourselves and determine our own affairs.

Discipline imposed from without is more irksome than discipline imposed from within. Discipline from within seems to be impossible unless we have first learned discipline from without. Accordingly as we go through life we are disciplined by external regulations as long as we hold subordinate positions. Only in our leisure and when we reach the top of our profession do we achieve any large degree of self-discipline.

At Rollins the students are supposed to be under external discipline in the Lower Division. They are supposed not to be admitted into the Upper Division unless they can discipline themselves both in work and in leisure. Otherwise the liberty that they are accorded in the Upper Division will turn into license. Liberty, leisure, and even happiness come not as rights. They are blessings that must be earned. Money gives leisure but it has to be earned by the individual or some parent or donor who has bequeathed it after himself earning it.

Life implies movement; movement implies change; change implies choice; choice implies values; values imply morality; morality implies discipline.

Does all this have any significance for Rollins in the year 1932-33 and the years to come?

Deans

ANDERSON

Dean Anderson

Dean Winslow Samuel Anderson was first connected with Rollins in 1921 as professor of chemistry. In 1928, he again held the position of professor, and served as Dean of Men and Acting Dean. He has been Dean of the College since 1929.

Dean Anderson received his B.S. and M.S. in Chemistry at Bates College; taught chemistry at Bates College, University of Minnesota, and North Carolina State College. He has been a consulting chemist, and has written articles both on chemistry and on national fraternities.

Dean Enyart

Dean Arthur Delano Enyart was Dean of the College from 1911 to 1917, when he was called to do personnel work in France. He returned to Rollins in 1930 as professor of business economics, and has been Dean of Men since 1931.

Dean Enyart received his A.B. and A.M. degrees in Social Science from Ohio Wesleyan University and S.T.B. and Litt.D. degrees from Boston University. From 1919-1929, he was Dean of Business Administration Department of Burdett.

Dean Bingham

Dean Vivian Savacool Bingham has been Dean of Women since 1929. During the year 1928-29 she was resident head of Lakeside dormitory.

Dean Bingham received her A.B. degree from Smith College.

Dean Campbell

Dean Charles Atwood Campbell has been professor of Biblical Literature and instructor in Entomology at Rollins since 1926, and Dean of Knowles Memorial Chapel since 1931.

Dean Campbell received his B.S. at Kansas State Agricultural College; he did post-graduate work in Philosophy and Greek at Emporia College; and received his B.D. degree at Auburn Theological Seminary. He is the author of many articles on ethical, religious, and scientific subjects.

The Faculty

THE mere word faculty in its ordinary sense hardly does justice to the status of the Rollins teaching staff. Each member teaches more as a parent or an older brother or sister might teach, acting as guide, friend, and helpful protector at one time. The professors, the house chaperones, and the administration staff literally make Rollins an intellectual, social, and domestic home for every student.

A natural desire for learning, present in all students, is satisfied and allowed to grow under the liberal education program of the New Plan. The faculty in carrying out this program does not attempt to push the students into any particular mold, but rather helps them find where they will fit best, then does all in its power to assist each student to fit into his chosen niche in a way that will be harmonious to his fellowmen.

The Graduating Class

THE class of 1933 began its education at Rollins College under the newly established Concentration Plan. Its freshman year began with a bang. The varsity football team won its first game after a disgracefully long period of unmitigated defeats. Those were the days of real ratting when paddles and soapy wash cloths were significant, and the freshmen turned out full force when the order came for a pajama parade. What a parade that was! This same year the campus began to grow. Rollins Hall was begun, another great chapter opened.

Pugsley and Mayflower Halls were erected during the sophomore year. Those who dreamed of "the gem" that Rollins was to be, had the privilege of watching it grow. One of the history-making events of the second year was the Religious Conference. The eyes of the world were again focused on Rollins while the Educational Conference, composed of famous educators, met and formulated the New Plan out of the mass of suggestions given them by different committees. During this year an anonymous gift of five hundred thousand dollars was made to the Endowment Fund.

The New Plan was adopted in the fall of the junior year. The Rollins dream was slowly emerging as the construction of the Annie Russell Theatre and the Knowles Memorial Chapel was begun.

During the senior year the external world tried to shock everyone by electing a Democrat for President and going off the gold standard, but Rollins, ever-ready with an answer, responded to inflation by adopting the Unit Cost Plan.

Ever since the freshman year the football team has grown better and better, finally going through the season this year undefeated.

Although the class has lost a number of its members who started with it, it has gained a few recruits along the way, until now it is the largest class that has been graduated from Rollins. The four years can be looked back upon as profitable, eventful, and happy for both the class and the college.

Old Plan

ALL changes must take place gradually if they are to be successful, therefore, when Rollins installed the New Plan, all old students were not required to change from the Old Plan. Those whose courses of study were not flexible enough to be changed to fit in with the aims and ideals of the New Plan were allowed to continue under the Old Plan in order that they might get the full advantage of their original expectations.

Consequently, there are still several students in Rollins who are classified as juniors, and two students who are classified as sophomores. These few adherents to the old regime really experience most of the benefits of the New Plan, because students under both plans work side by side in the class room, enjoying equal privileges. Rollins is essentially for the students, therefore, they must be allowed to learn in the way that suits them best.

Upper Division

AFTER a period of training in the Lower Division, during which time a student is expected to have acquired a thorough understanding of the aims and ideals of the college, and to have developed a background of culture from a wide range of academic and social subjects, the student is eligible to make his application for admission to the Upper Division. If the Board of Admissions agrees that he has accomplished all that has been expected of him, he is recommended for membership. Following his admission, he is given freedom and encouraged to pursue whatever course in his own educational development that he thinks is best suited for his purpose in life, whether it be in the field of vocational specialization, or along the line of a higher general culture. When he has reached a general excellence in his field of study, he then makes a written application to the Board of Graduation. Two years is the average time spent in working in the Upper Division, but a student may take a much shorter or longer time before making his application for a degree.

Lower Division

ROLLINS has divided the student body into two scholastic divisions, namely, the Upper, and the Lower. For a student to pass from Lower to Upper Division, he must pass a board examination. Therefore, members of the Lower Division are those who have yet to pass the "big test." For the most part, these are the first- and second-year students. It is in the Lower Division where men and women lay the foundation for their entire college life. It is here that they find their careers and talents, here that the future of each one is shaped. New experiences and thoughts await those who enter the Lower Division. Their goal is ever forward, and it is in the future rather than the past that their ambition and hopes are centered and glorified.

Scrapbook

THE personalities of the campus are preserved in these bits of Rollins life. Many incidents of interest are forgotten at the time, to be recalled later in impromptu pictures that leave a record for later reminiscences. These pages contain a jumble-box of memories of organized and unorganized Rollins.

PRESIDENT HOLT is a busy man because he makes Rollins a busy place with its Walk of Fame, its Animated Magazine, and a visiting tennis champion.

WE MUST have some way of filing our copy of the Animated Magazine after its authors have departed from the site of publication, leaving their words and thoughts in our memories.

THE Florida Intercollegiate Press Association honored Rollins with a convention this year. The Association is trying to make Florida college publications the best in the country.

WE must study our English literature, but recreation is also necessary. The football team, crew, golf, and trips to Shell Island are a few of the interesting extra-curriculars.

Athletics

Men's Athletics

AN UNDEFEATED football team, the increasing prominence attained by the crew rowing in competition with some of the biggest colleges in the United States, the fencing team that has spread Rollins' athletic prestige as far as Annapolis, the S. I. A. A. convention, and an improved intra-mural athletic system mark definite steps in progress for Rollins athletics in the year 1932-33.

Again we have enjoyed a record-breaking Water Meet, a successful State Interscholastic Baseball Tournament. The Water Carnival in Orlando participated in by Rollins men and women was a new feature. Tennis, golf, baseball, and swimming have continued as varsity sports; sharing the place left vacant by the abandonment of basketball.

Athletically, 1932-33 has been very happy and successful. Touch-football, volleyball, golf, diamond-ball, tennis, swimming, and basketball have enlivened the intra-mural competition and are leading the way toward a successful program of athletics for all, and all for athletics.

Coach McDowall

I WOULDN'T knowingly schedule a game with any team Rollins could lick 40-0," says Rollins' Head Coach, Jack McDowall, and adds, "and I wouldn't schedule a game with a team that could lick us 40-0, either. What the public wants to see and what is best for the players, too, is even contests."

A season of high-score victories without having his own goal line crossed, is not McDowall's idea of a successful season or one for which he or his team would deserve great credit. Not from a standpoint of gate receipts, but because of the effect of evenly matched games upon the moral and intellectual development of his players, McDowall is interested in equal contests. As "Director of Physical Education for Men," he is not only a coach but a professor of health and of character development through sports.

Under McDowall's plan, conforming to Rollins academic curricula, there are no compulsory athletics. To aid character development, and as an incentive to progressive improvement in health, a variety of organized sports are offered, with competent coaches for each sport, including football, baseball, diamondball, archery, crew, canoeing, swimming, golf, and tennis, with varsity and freshman teams for intercollegiate tilts and with fraternity, dormitory, and class leagues for intramural teams.

McDowall came to Rollins after making a remarkable record as an all-around athlete and as a coach in North Carolina high schools. At N. C. State, he won eleven letters in four sports—football, baseball, basketball and track. In football he was named all-North Carolina back, all-Southern back, and all-time North Carolina back, and was selected to play on the all-Southern team that defeated the all-Western team in Los Angeles on Christmas Day, 1927. He was captain of the North Carolina State Basketball team and was first baseman on the championship baseball team at State. In track he held the Southern Conference record in the high jump from 1925 to 1931 and he still holds the North Carolina State record.

Jack coaches football, golf, and tennis at Rollins and supervises all men's athletic and physical education activities. He has the distinction of being a scholar as well as a gentleman and a good coach. He spends his summers at Duke University working toward a Master's degree in English and as soon as that has been tacked on the wall he expects to go after his Doctorate.

Varsity Football

UNDEFEATED! For the first time in the history of Rollins College the varsity football team has completed a season without defeat. For the first time in many years Rollins has a perfect record in the S. I. A. A. with victories over all their Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association opponents.

1932 VARSITY FOOTBALL SCHEDULE

Rollins 7—Alabama State Teachers 7
Rollins 20—University of Florida "B" Team 6
Rollins 12—South Georgia State Teachers 0
Rollins 6—Miami University 0
Rollins 19—Cumberland University 13
Rollins 7—Newberry College 0
Rollins 20—South State College 13

The all-season record shows that the Tars ran up a total of 91 points to 39 for their opponents. Although every game was hard-fought and close, the superiority of Rollins over its opponent in each case was decisive. The tie game which marred an otherwise perfect record was the first encounter of the season when the Alabama State Teachers held the Tars to a 7-7 score. From then on the Tars showed consistent improvement, particularly in the development of their line, the weakest department of the team at the start of the campaign.

Varsity Football

HANDICAPPED throughout the season by the lack of reserves, the Tars were forced to put their best foot forward in every game of the schedule, not one on the list being classed, either in theory or fact, as a let down. The most important victories were those over Miami and Newberry, the defeat of Miami being the first ever administered them by a Rollins team. Newberry's defeat was notable in the fact that it was the first time this season (prior to November 24) that the South Carolinians had failed to score on an opponent. Rollins has established a record of only two football defeats in three years.

Stars for three years varsity service were awarded to Phil Horton, Will Rogers, T. J. Morris, Ed Cruger, Shorty Fisher, and Stan Todd, manager.

Stars for the second year of varsity playing were awarded to Dan Contini, Ray Miller, Flop Morris, and Dick Washington. Sweaters and letters for first year playing went to Bud Childs, John Doyle, Jack Fischer, Linton Malone, George Rogers, Charles Sealover, Horace Thompson, Ralph Tourtellotte, and Bob Teelin, manager.

Will Rogers gave his jersey, No. 43, back to the Athletic Association at the end of the season. It will be kept on permanent display in the college trophy case "for the inspiration of future football players and athletes at Rollins." Hundreds of football fans have seen this jersey streaking up and down the gridiron many times in the past three years.

Varsity Football

OLD footballs, "emblematic of an undefeated season" which Rollins enjoyed in 1932, were awarded to twenty members of the Rollins football squad and to coaches McDowall, Evans, and Calado at a football banquet held December 14 in the College Commons. The "R" Club was host to the varsity and freshman squads.

Followers of the Rollins team without reservation give coaches McDowall and Evans, former North Carolina State star athletes, full credit for the success of the Tar Team. The team showed the benefit of expert coaching in every game, particularly on the offensive. During the preceding two years Rollins lost only one game each year, then came the climax for the seniors on the team with participation on an undefeated team. From the status of a rather weak opponent in the past, Rollins has become feared by other colleges as one of the strongest small college teams in the southeast.

Individual stars this season were Will Rogers, Dick Washington, and Ray Miller in the backfield; Danny Contini at end; Flop Morris at center; and Ed Cruger at guard. Long touchdown runs by Will Rogers, the 150-pound "pride of Dover, New Hampshire," kept the Tars ahead many times this season. He is undoubtedly one of the finest halfbacks in the Southeast. Contini, who is credited as being one of the smartest players ever to wear the blue and gold of Rollins, has played brilliantly on the defense in every game. Cruger, veteran guard, always reliable and efficient, will be sorely missed next year. Flop Morris, the center, and Ray (Heimie) Miller, a smart quarterback and clever ball carrier, share the distinction of having played every minute of every game of the season.

Crew

WITH two victories over Asheville School crews, one win over Indian River School, and scheduled races with Harvard University and Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Rollins' 1933 varsity crew is determined to put rowing in a high place on the college's athletic curriculum.

The members of the crew have not only worked a full year at practice, but they have had to finance both trips north. They hope that since they have been able to establish intercollegiate athletic relationships with at least two of the major universities that a team appropriation will be granted them and that possibly at least one four-oared shell may be obtained.

At the beginning of the year there were thirty candidates for crew. Intensive training commenced at Christmas time. Some of the men "couldn't take it" and at spring vacation there were only nine oarsmen and two coxswains reporting daily. Handicapped in numbers and in equipment, these eleven men and Coach Oldham have kept right on, and they are determined to do their best at Harvard on June 2 and at M. I. T. on June 5.

Varsity crew insignia will be awarded to Captain George Edwards, Manager and Coxswain Shorty Chalmers, Ed Jenks, John Cudmore, H. P. Abbott, Richard Brown, Norman Weston, Ed Bonelli, A. H. Whitelaw, Jay Williams, and Coxswain Joe Lichtenstein.

Fencing

The season's record for the past year is as follows:

Rollins	2	University of South Carolina.....	1
University of Florida.....	3	Rollins	0
Rollins	10	The Citadel	4
Navy	16	Rollins	1
Princeton	14	Rollins	3

Fencing, the baby sport of the Rollins athletic family, is rapidly growing up. Without experience, the team made a good enough showing this year to merit the following schedule for 1933-34: For the Fall Term of 1933, matches have been arranged with Georgia Tech, Emory University, University of South Carolina, and The Citadel. For the Spring Term, 1934, they have bouts with Harvard, Yale, Princeton, New York University, Army, and the Navy. Either Harvard, or Yale, or Princeton will fence Rollins at Winter Park during the Founders' Week exercises.

The 1933 Rollins Varsity fencing team was composed of Captain Watt Marchman, Jonathan Hall, Rupert Mitchell, David Bothe, Dick Camp and John Gehrman. Marchman will receive the only letter awarded this year, as one full year's service is required.

Standing: Sweet, Robertson, Cooney, Schofield, Davis
Kneeling: Kuhns, Captain Eastwood, Dunbar

Tennis

THE Rollins Raquetteers of 1932-33 had a most successful season this year with four wins and three losses for a total of seven week-end tournaments. This was a big improvement over last year when Rollins failed to garner a single victory.

Led by Captain Palmer Eastwood, Rollins singles champion, the team which boasted only one veteran from last year, Bob Dunbar, displayed a brand of team work and playing ability which earned them the righteous respect of all opponents.

The Tars got away to a good start by trouncing the Eustis Tennis Club for the season's opener, following up with a win over the Cocoa Club. Florida University came down and stopped the Rollins march by out-stepping the Tar team by a fair margin; but the following week it was only by hard playing that the 'Gator squad held off the threat of a Rollins revenge, at Gainesville. The Rollins squad next tripped up a confident Orlando team the following week, only to bow to a revengeful Eustis team the week after. The Tars rounded up the season by stopping the Stetson Hatters at DeLand in the season's final in easy style.

Men who receive letters this year are: Captain Palmer Eastwood, Carroll Cooney, Bob Dunbar, Carl Sweet, Bob Robertson, Ben Kuhns, Fred Schofield, and Milford Davis, manager.

Women's Athletics

THE range of Women's Athletics at Rollins has broadened each year so that there are now enough activities to attract the most athletically-inclined girl or the one with the most casual interest in sports.

Miss Marjorie Weber, the director of the physical education department, has been ably assisted for the past two years by an undergraduate, Constance Wetherell. The girls participating in the more than ten sports offered for instruction play a large part in making them a success in that they arrange the schedules for all games, care for equipment, and generally assist in every way possible. In charge of each sport there is a student, appointed by the board of the Women's Athletic Association, whose particular duty it is to arouse interest and enthusiasm in her sport and to aid in its conduction. This student is called a sport head.

A varied program of activities is offered each term of college. In the fall the women have the choice of basketball, the major sport, archery, golf, tap-dancing, and tennis which are repeated in the Winter Term, with field hockey as the major sport, and canoeing and fencing added. The spring term sports include swimming and volleyball as majors, archery, tap-dancing, tennis and golf.

The final games in each sport are played between the two Odd-Even teams which are composed of the best members of the four class teams. These teams fight keenly for the school championship and their members receive high W. A. A. point scores.

Dancing

DANCING has been one of the most interesting parts of the women's athletics at Rollins this year. During the fall term there were classes in musical comedy routines and others, and there was a beginner's tap class under Miss Weber. In the winter term tap classes were continued, and Miss Weber taught a class in natural dancing. This class worked with scarves and learned several interesting dances as well as rhythmic exercises.

During the spring term, Miss Wetherell taught advanced tap dancing, concentrating on soft-shoe, clog, and tap routines.

Mme. Olive Scott-Fanelli has been teaching Denishawn dancing this year, and completed her season with the presentation of a dance recital at the Annie Russell Theatre.

Organizations

STUDENT government, in close cooperation with the administration, has always played a salient part in campus activity.

It is through the Press that students have found space to see in print their individual expressions of criticism, sentiment, and loyalty.

To those few who have reached excellence in some phase of activity on the campus, academic or extra-curricular, the Honorary Organizations are open as a recognition of their leadership and ability.

Besides the various Councils and Honor Organizations, there are Clubs designed to fit the special interests of the individual, whether it be in the mysteries of the French language, or in the abolition of war from the face of the earth.

The Student Association

THE numerous interests and activities carried on by students on any college campus are mirrored in the degree of self-government that is maintained. Rollins, especially in the last few years, has offered many examples of liberal self-government. The student body of the campus has organized itself into a group called the Student Association. All regularly enrolled students of the college who have paid their Association fee are members of this organization.

For the sake of central management, the student body has placed at the head of the Association an executive body known as the Student Council. The membership roll of the Council includes the president, vice-president, and secretary of the Student Association, and equal representation from each division of the college. Among the qualifications for membership to the Council are active leadership in many of the college activities, personal popularity, and a willingness to assume the responsibilities of formulating and directing the policies and platforms of the student body.

The Student Council, in close cooperation with the administration, has tried at all times to promote the general interests of the student body as a whole. Within the field of athletics, the Council has encouraged all students to participate fully in any sports that appeal to them. Not only does the Association encourage activity in the various types of athletics, but it also regulates the necessary finances for the support of them.

During the past year Bill Miller was wholeheartedly selected to serve as president of the student body, which position he has filled with the efficiency and conscientiousness that were expected of him. The extent to which the Association has succeeded in its year's work may be detected in the response the students have made to its leadership; and the success that it has attained may be measured in the degree of loyalty to the college of each student that is a prospective alumnus.

The Student-Faculty Discipline Committee, a committee working somewhat parallel to the Student Council, is an organization composed of the Dean of the College, the Dean of Men, the Dean of Women, four members of the teaching staff, and six men and women representatives from the student body, nominated by a committee appointed by the Student Council. The actions of this Discipline Committee, although somewhat independent in its relation to the Administration and the Student Association, nevertheless provide the medium for the exchange of ideas leading toward better understanding and sympathy between students and faculty of the college. The Committee, in addition to its other duties, also has charge of those special cases of discipline that sometimes arise, and it provides such corrective measures for them that are necessary for realizing the ideals of the college. The few cases that have come under its jurisdiction have been conducted in absolute fairness in every respect, and its decisions have been accepted in nearly every instance without question.

The Social Committee of the College, represented by members of the faculty and the Student Association, has complete control over all social events as they occur on the campus. The committee for its convenience has arranged a social calendar in order to avoid conflicts in the times and dates of social affairs. Other duties of the committee have consisted in setting the hours that the girls are allowed "out" in the evenings, in determining the length of dances, in granting late permissions wherever it sees fit, and in deciding the number of chaperones needed at dances, parties, and other mixed social events. In general the committee may be said to look after, in the best interests of all, the social life of the College.

SOCIAL COMMITTEE

Standing: Georgia, Miller, Enyart, Pfister
Sitting: Estes, Robie, Bingham, Lamb, Weber

The Chapel Committee, organized for the first time shortly before the date of the formal opening of the Knowles Memorial Chapel, consists of from twelve to fifteen undergraduate members working under the guidance of the Dean of the Chapel, Dr. Campbell. The Chapel Committee in its wide activity, represents the interests that students take in promoting the affairs of the Chapel. Special programs for holiday occasions, such as Christmas, Easter, Mothers' Day, and other such days, are suggested and arranged by the committee. Ushering during chapel exercises constitutes one of its principal duties. The committee also has charge of the social service work that is being carried on at all times for the needy in the community. During December of 1932 a special Christmas Fund amounting to over three hundred dollars was raised for work in social service. Many other benefits performed in the neighborhood and on the campus have been part of the good work of the Chapel Committee.

Because of the great diversity of its work, ranging from duties directly associated with the College Chapel, to the serious charity problems arising in the community, the committee has seen the necessity of subdividing itself into smaller working organizations. A chairman is appointed each year to lead each of these small organizations. The duties of these sub-committees are those pertaining to some particular phase of the various duties under the directorship of the main committee, such as the program committee, the ushering committee, each sub-committee getting its name from the nature of its functions.

The Inter-Fraternity Council

THE Inter-Fraternity Council is made up of a group of men representing the various national and local fraternities on the campus. Its purpose is to bring the fraternities into closer affiliation and agreement, and to establish a spirit of friendliness and cooperation in their relationship with one another. Among the Council's duties in the past has been the making of rules controlling the rushing and pledging system, and to reduce to a minimum any friction arising from its operation. Another duty has been to preserve peace among the fraternities under its jurisdiction. Laws and by-laws are made from time to time, with the purpose of maintaining a better understanding, better harmony, and a more lasting fellowship among fraternal men on the campus.

Each fraternity has two of its members representing it on the Council Board. Officers of the Council are elected in rotation in the order of the founding of the fraternities on the campus. The officers for the past year were: Ed Cruger, President; Bill Miller, Vice-President; and Bill Ehart, Secretary-Treasurer. In May, new officers for the school year of 1933-34 were elected as follows: Brewster Durkee, President; Bernard Bralove, Vice-President, and Stuart Eaton, Secretary-Treasurer.

The program for next year includes a re-consideration of the present inter-fraternity rules, with the view of revising and strengthening the by-laws, and making new rushing rules for next year.

Sitting: Fariss, Wright, Wood, Pendexter, Fontaine, Fullington, Davenport

The Panhellenic Association

SIMILAR to the Inter-Fraternity Council in its aims and purposes, the Panhellenic Association exists on the campus as a group of representatives from the various sororities, working in unison to produce general group policies acceptable to all. In its work, the Association has charge of regulating and revising the rushing and pledging system, and has sought to smooth out differences that sometimes arise among the sororities. It acts as a meeting-place for the development of good-will, peace and cooperation among the sororities on the college campus. Sorority problems other than controversies are sometimes discussed, and a general program of activity for each year is proposed.

The Panhellenic Association has worked hard during the past year trying to arrange a suitable system of rushing that will be fairer, more simple, and clearer to both new girls and the sorority members. In addition, it has at all times kept in close cooperation with the college administration in trying to settle any group difficulties that relate directly, or indirectly, to the women's organizations.

The Association is comprised of two members from each of the sororities on the campus. Executives are chosen from among the members present by a certain system of rotation. The members filling the offices for the year were: Deborah Williams, President; Jean Fullington, Vice-President; and Jeanne Fontaine, Secretary and Treasurer. At a meeting held late in the year, officers for the following year were elected: Mary Ruth Jarrell, President; Cornelia Barrows, Vice-President; and Mary Lynn Rogers, Secretary and Treasurer.

In announcing the program for the coming year, the Panhellenic Association plans to function along lines similar to the past year, but hopes to make some slight changes in the rushing and pledging rules.

The Publications Union

SEVERAL YEARS ago, in an effort to insure practical cooperation between the three publications supported by the Student Association, it was found necessary to gather the heads of these publications together, with representation from the student body, the administration, and the faculty, to form an executive body. This body became known as the Publications Union. Since the time of its establishment, the Union has continued to operate in the best interests of the college's publications; and the success that it has gained may be observed in the business-like efficiency with which it operates. In spite of the severe depression in the business world, not one of the campus publications has yet shown an operating deficit.

In addition to customary business proceedings during the year, a few important questions were discussed, such as the inclusion of the advertising manager in the board membership, setting the rates and commissions of advertising, and like questions having direct bearing on the publications.

At the present time there are about fifteen members in the Union, including the editors, associate editors, business managers, advisers, student representatives, and the advertising commissioner. These members have in their power the selection of the editors and business managers of all publications for the following year.

James Ottaway, who was the advertising commissioner for the year, acted as chairman of the meetings, and Mr. E. T. Brown served as Secretary.

Women's Athletic Association

OFFICERS: Jean Fullington, president; Doris Lang, vice-president; Holly Lynip, secretary; and Kathleen Hara, treasurer.

The Women's Athletic Association is the largest active organization on the Rollins campus. Its purpose is the fostering and promoting of a spirit of cooperation and sportsmanship in athletics and a high standard of physical efficiency among the women of the College.

A large number of the women students participate in the Association sports which include basketball, field hockey, volleyball, tennis, golf, archery, horseback riding, dancing, of all kinds, and the aquatic sports.

The Association has done a great deal to make possible a successful program of athletics for women, by creating an interest in the various sports, by helping to manage as well as to finance them, and by rewarding in a suitable way those who have been faithful and able.

Miss Marjorie Weber, who has for four years been a most competent director of women's athletics at Rollins and Miss Constance Wetherell are advisory members to the board of the Women's Athletic Association.

The Sandspur

THE "Rollins Sandspur", the weekly college newspaper, is now in its thirty-ninth year of development, and is rapidly becoming one of the leading college weeklies in the country. A larger, more experienced staff, and better defined departments have contributed largely toward its improvement. The Sandspur is run on a strictly business-like basis and is financially independent. It has long been the means by which students might express themselves, and several student opinions on current topics are published each week. Its sharp, clear editorials bring to light the true aspect of the various college controversies during the year, and the world news is summarized into a few short cryptic sentences each week. Rollins news, however, is the main theme of the journal, and all of the college events are clearly and carefully recorded. This year many students have shown active interest in the Sandspur, and, as a result, several new feature articles have been appearing in its columns from time to time. For the last two years the Sandspur has taken the cup awarded to the best college newspaper in Florida, and last year, in a national rating, it was placed in the first of five divisions. Doris Lang was editor-in-chief during the past year, and Robert Barber was business manager. In the early part of May, the Publications Union elected George Barber editor-in-chief for next year, with Robert Stufflebeam as his business manager.

MINGO grew to include, besides the best literary work obtainable on the campus, a “DUST AND HEAT” column where campus problems could see the light of day and contrast. An editorial spoke “In these pages pertinent and even impertinent questions may be discussed. THE FLAMINGO is first of all a college magazine.” A college magazine is representative of the whole college. It endeavors to be well balanced in its material, alive, and to present facts rather than pure opinion. On this plan THE FLAMINGO proceeded, coming out on the fifteenth of every month; the product of a hard-working staff and an appreciative student body.

The "R" Book

THE "R" Book is a student publication designed for the benefit of incoming students. It is published annually for the purpose of assisting new students during orientation week to become better acquainted with Rollins. The book contains information concerning the faculty, student officers, the student council, fraternities, clubs, ratting rules, college songs and yells, the football schedule, the college traditions, and many other subjects of interest to a new Rollins student.

Although this book has always been published by the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. groups on the campus, next year the work will be taken over by students interested in journalism. It is expected that the "R" Book will soon become a member of the Publications Union and take its place with the other student publications.

This year the "R" Book was co-edited by Olive Dickson and William Woodhull with Warren Apgar as business manager.

Omicron Delta Kappa

WAS established at Rollins in 1931. It is an organization which includes those men who are most prominent on the campus in athletics, publications, debating, and other activities.

Since its founding at Rollins two years ago, ODK has connected itself with many college affairs. It has assumed an active part in conducting Freshman Week; it inaugurated a Safety Week for motorists; it has revived the St. Andy tradition; and for the first time Honors Day appeared as a regular part of the college calendar this year. In all its work ODK's ideal is to make Rollins a better college.

Tapping takes place twice each year at the semi-annual Honors Day in the presence of the entire student body. Only junior and senior men are eligible for membership, and at no time does the active roll exceed six percent of the male students.

For the first time the Alpha Iota Circle of Omicron Delta Kappa was represented at a national convention held at Duke University, Durham, North Carolina. Dean A. D. Enyart, Edward J. Cruger, Philip W. Horton, and Robert Barber were the representatives sent to Duke. The Rollins Circle has maintained a national honor standing since its establishment here.

Rollins Key Society

THE Rollins Key Society, organized on the campus in 1928 as an honorary society, now numbers thirty-one students as members. Its purpose is "to study, discuss, and strive to further the best interests of Rollins College, to encourage graduate work among Rollins students, and to seek to maintain scholarship and extra-curricular activities on a high plane."

Membership in the Key Society is limited to students in the Junior and Senior classes, or students who are in the Upper Division. Candidates for membership must have a two point scholastic average or its equivalent under the New Plan, and must be prominent in campus activities.

This year, the Key Society, after some consultation with Dean Anderson, decided to try and revive the Contract Plan, which was proposed a year ago. An investigation was carried on among faculty and students, and after some time, it was found that the Contract Plan, as such, was not considered feasible. However, many of the people consulted favored the plan of having some type of advance information given about courses.

As a result, the Key Society recommended to the Administration that a syllabus of each course be placed on file, either in the library or some convenient place in Carnegie Hall, these syllabi to be available for students before registration. This will probably be carried out next year.

Algernon Sydney Sullivan Medallion

IN 1925 the New York Southern Society, in order to perpetuate the memory of its esteemed founder, established the Algernon Sydney Sullivan Award. This award, which is a bronze medallion, is intended to "recognize and encourage in others those same principles of love for and service to man, which were his dominant characteristics."

Rollins College is one of fourteen Institutions chosen to bestow this award. It may be given each year to not more than one man and one woman of the graduating class and to one other person who is not a student at the College. In determining the recipients of the award, "nothing shall be considered except the possession of such characteristics of heart, mind and conduct as evince a spirit of love for and helpfulness toward other men and women."

The first Medallion was presented by Rollins College to Irving Bacheller, the novelist. The citizen award for this year was made to Father Fox of Orlando.

Saint Andy

ST. ANDY, a plaque bearing the name and likeness of Andrew Carnegie, has become deep-rooted in the traditions of Rollins College. A constant contest is always carried on for the possession of this famous plaque. As a general rule it appears upon the campus once every year, and then there is a terrific rush for it. After the melee has subsided, St. Andy will be found to have disappeared as mysteriously as it came.

Πi Kappa Delta

ΠI KAPPA DELTA is now entering upon the twenty-first year of its existence. The first chapter was granted to Ottawa University, Kansas Alpha, and the Constitution was signed by the ten National Founders, January, 1913. The ten founders of the national forensic honor society came upon the idea of launching this Greek honor society when they realized the need for some reward or honor for orators and debaters in the Smaller Colleges. John A. Shield and Egbert Ray Nichols were two of the ten founders who are credited with the idea of which resulted in this forensic organization.

Rollins College organized the 142 chapter in 1932. Florida Alpha, as the chapter is designated, has at the present nine members.

Professor H. R. Pierce, the Rollins forensic coach, made a tour from Maine to California, keeping two of the Pi Kappa Delta's from Rollins quite busy in debating during the Christmas vacation last year.

December 17, they met Oxford University. The debate was broadcast over the National Broadcasting System. December 19, they debated against Bates College, in Lewiston, Maine. They traveled West to, and appeared before, the Convention of the National Association of Teachers of Speech in Los Angeles, California. That was December 29. They met North Carolina State College in a direct clash debate, winning all three clashes. In keeping these engagements they traveled 8,000 miles.

The name Pi Kappa Delta was chosen as being superior in euphony and in motto to all other names suggested. The initial letters of P. K. D. are contained in the phrase Peitho Kale Dikia, the art of persuasion, beautiful and just.

The magazine is "The Forensic."

Πi Gamma Mu

Founded at Southwestern College, Winfield, Kansas, 1924

ΠI GAMMA MU, the National Social Science Honor Society, one of the few national organizations on the campus, was installed at Rollins in the Spring Term of 1932 at a time when it was too late to adopt an active program for the year.

This fall, with Richard Munger as President of the organization, Jeanne Carter as Vice-President, and Dr. Arthur D. Enyart as Secretary, the chapter adopted a policy of holding meetings the second Tuesday of each month. At these meetings round table discussions were frequent, the faculty members taking an active lead in the discussions on current events of national interest. Some of the most outstanding topics of the day were considered, such as President Roosevelt's many-sided duties, the Bank Moratorium, the President's different attacks on the Depression, and other similar subjects of universal importance.

The purpose of the Pi Gamma Mu Chapter is to inculcate and further the ideals of scholarship and social service, and to develop a scientific attitude and approach to all social problems as they occur.

Although there is no limit to its membership numerically, it is the purpose of Pi Gamma Mu to restrict its election of members to those who have been prominent in some field of Social Service work. Students who are in the Upper Division, having a major in one of the social science subjects, and who have maintained a high scholastic standing in their academic work, are eligible for initiation in the Chapter.

Phi Beta Fraternity

THE Phi Beta Fraternity was founded ten years ago at Northwestern University in Evanston, Illinois, having for its ideals the promotion of music and drama. The intrinsic aim of this honorary fraternity is to teach its members to lead a life of service, and to seek the development of the highest type of womanhood.

The Theta Chapter of Phi Beta was established at Rollins in 1923, and rapidly became one of the most popular groups on the campus. The group is still very strong and influential, and those who are selected as new members are indeed honored. The organization performs many services for the college, one of which has been the furnishing of music during intermissions of Drama Productions in the Annie Russell Theatre.

There are three different forms of affiliation with the Phi Beta Fraternity, and they are the actives, the honoraries, the patrons and patronesses. Miss Annie Russell, the well-known director of the Annie Russell Theatre, is acknowledged as one of their patronesses.

Rho Kappa Sigma Fraternity

THE Rho Kappa Sigma Fraternity, an honorary chemistry organization, was founded in 1928 by a group of earnest students wishing to bind together in brotherhood their interests in chemical science work. Dr. Georgia, the head of the chemistry department, became the faculty advisor to the then new organization. The purposes and aims of Rho Kappa Sigma are expressed in their pledge to encourage friendship in chemical work, to promote leadership in scholastic achievement, and to aid in the development of technical preciseness in dealing with the fundamentals of chemistry. Another one of its underlying purposes is to establish in its members a sound scientific attitude in dealing with life problems. As there has been no elected officers in the organization, each member takes the responsibility which ordinarily would be delegated to an executive staff.

As a result of the high standing which the fraternity has tried to maintain, some of its alumni members have been honored at different times with scholarships for their work. Two or three years ago one of its graduated members was granted a fellowship for a year's advanced chemical study in Germany.

The organization has tried to limit its membership to those students who show the greatest aptitude for chemical work; and because of added laboratory facilities and a larger chemistry staff, a greater interest has been taken in the fraternity during the past year. Because of these improvements, the organization has been more nearly able to reach the ideals and purposes that were incorporated at its founding.

The "R" Club

THE "R" Club is an honorary athletic organization made up of the men who have earned their letters in the various major and minor sports, including football, basketball, baseball, swimming, golf, and tennis. For a man to receive a letter, sweater, service star, or emblem for his services, and then to be included in the membership of the club, is to receive one of the highest honors that the student association, through the athletic department, can bestow.

At the close of the football season, the "R" Club sponsored an annual banquet, at which time the football men are presented with sweaters and letters in recognition of their good sportsmanship. This year the greatest tribute ever paid to a man on the Rollins football team was given wholeheartedly to Will Rogers. It was decided to place his sweater on permanent exhibition in the showcase in Carnegie Hall, to be a constant reminder to succeeding generations of the excellence he reached in his playing.

Later in the year, at an Honor's Day assembly in the Annie Russell Theatre, first and second year letters were awarded to men on the golf, baseball, basketball, swimming, tennis and fencing teams. Over thirty letters in all were given to the players.

The "R" Club, in following an annual custom, will assist in the selection of the year's outstanding athlete, the man who has been at all times the best player in different athletics, and who, because of his leadership in them, has contributed most toward upholding the loyal spirit and reputation of Rollins College.

The "R" Girls

THE Women's Athletic Association, rather than the Physical Education Department, makes awards of letters and sweaters to athletically inclined girls. Awards are made on the basis of a point system, and "R's" are given to those girls who have earned at least a thousand points by participation in various sports.

There are only two "R" Girls this year, one of whom—Lula Cashwell—was not in school the winter term when the above picture was taken. The other, Kay Hara, was awarded a letter in her sophomore year, and received her second one at the May Banquet of the Women's Athletic Association. Jean Fullington, a senior, and Mary Lynn Rogers, a junior, were awarded "R's" at this time.

At Commencement each year the Phi Mu Athletic Trophy is presented to the most outstanding, all-round girl athlete in school. Those eligible are "R" Girls, or ones receiving an "R" at the May Banquet.

Besides the letter, W. A. A. offers appropriate emblems to members of the winning Odd or Even team in sports such as basketball, and to the high point individual in golf, archery, and tennis.

The difficulty of obtaining the W. A. A. awards makes them all the more desirable, and adds to the honor carried by the trophies.

The Rollins Theatre Workshop, founded in 1925, has always tried to present the advanced students of proven ability in artistic productions before the public. The interpretation of the play through original characterizations by the students has always been the first concern of the Workshop. It has always striven for artistic development in all the branches of the theatre arts. During the past two years the Workshop has had the inspiration of Miss Annie Russell's help in its various productions. Miss Russell has set a new standard of dramatic excellence on the Rollins campus.

The Glee Club

THE most successful season ever enjoyed by the Rollins Glee Club! Such is the proud and well-deserved boast of that organization for the school year of 1932-33. The Glee Club took one overnight trip to St. Petersburg, where they gave a fine concert to a packed house, early in the winter. Later they made a second trip to Mt. Dora, presenting a well-received concert before the Tourist Club. The greatest and most outstanding achievement of the entire year, however, was the presentation of the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta, "Iolanthe", given two nights to a wildly enthusiastic audience, who acclaimed it as one of the finest dramatic and musical productions ever presented at Rollins.

Sproul, Director

Plans for next year's Club are even more ambitious, the schedule calling for three out-of-town trips to St. Petersburg, Jacksonville and Mt. Dora; two home concerts; and climaxing the season, the presentation of another opera, which probably will be "The Mikado." It is likewise hoped that this production will be given at the Little Theatre in Palm Beach sometime during the winter season, where it will attract the attention of scores of well-known music lovers.

The Rollins College Glee Club is open to every member of the student body who is interested in music and choral work. It is probably the only organization on the campus which offers such an opportunity for personal pleasure, cultural advancement, and the development of that spirit of harmony and comradeship which only music can foster to so large a group of students. The Glee Club is a paragon among the college clubs, in that in its ability to encourage individual and group expressions of harmony, it typifies the true spirit of Rollins College.

A Capella Choir

DURING the past year the campus saw the organization of an A Capella Choir, composed largely of college students, that has taken a remarkably prominent place in the choral and musical art of college. After a period of training under the expert guidance of Mr. Sproul, the choir has been able to give many impressive performances. Every Sunday morning the choir leads the Chapel Meditation Service; and on more formal holiday events special programs, appropriate to the occasion, are conducted.

The Male Quartet

The Rollins Male Quartet, organized early in the year by Bruce Dougherty, is one of the most popular small organizations on the campus. Besides two concerts at home, others were given throughout the state, including engagements at Mountain Lake, Sebring, and the Lake Placid Club. The members of the Quartet are Robert Currie, first tenor; Edwin Libbey, second tenor; William Mosteller, baritone; Richard Wilkinson, bass; Bruce Dougherty, director, and Emily Sellers Dougherty, accompanist.

Rollins Debate Team

THE Rollins Debate Team, having but little more than two years of inter-collegiate debating, is rapidly making a name for itself in forensic circles. This year the team has had an unusually successful season with a record of two long motor trips to various parts of the country.

The feature debate of the year was with Oxford University of England. This clash was broadcast over a national hook-up of thirty-two stations from the N. B. C. studios at Station WEAJ in New York City. From New York the team traveled to Los Angeles, where they entered a national debating contest. On the second trip the Rollins team met several of the southern colleges, and returned home undefeated. Altogether the debaters traveled over ten thousand miles, going from Florida to New York, from Maine to the lofty caps of the Rockies, and from there to the balmy skies of California.

Among the colleges debated were: Dublin University, Dublin, Ireland; Oxford University; University of Florida; Emory University; North Carolina State Teachers' College; Davidson University, and many others. At Los Angeles, the Rollins debaters demonstrated the new clash plan with North Carolina State before the National Teachers of Speech Association. This is the first time that under-graduate speakers have ever been invited to speak before this organization.

Next year is one of great prospect, as both varsity debators, Maurice Dreicer and Bernard Bralove, are expected to return.

The Oratorical Association

THE Oratorical Association of Rollins College was founded by Harry Raymond Pierce, instructor in Public Speaking and Debating. The purpose of the Association as expressed at its founding is "to promote and encourage the development of the speech arts among under-graduate students." A meeting of the Association is held in the Public Speech Studio every Wednesday night, and students are encouraged to recite speeches prepared for class, give impromptu talks, furnish humorous sketches and many other types of entertainments. During the last year the Association has had many exceptionally fine programs prepared by its various members.

Presidents of the Association for the past years have been Morris Book, Jack Brown and Maurice Dreicer. The officers for the present year are: Bernard Bralove, President; Tommy Johnson, Vice-President; and Alice Butler, Treasurer.

All students are invited free of charge to attend the meetings of this organization. Students who are anxious to obtain experience in performing before audiences have an excellent opportunity for expression in the Oratorical Association.

Rollins Literary Society

THE Rollins Literary Society was founded in April, 1927. During this year Miss Frances Grover, while acting as an instructor in history, noticed the great need for an organization with the aim of fostering student interest in literature, and she was very influential in founding the club. The object of the Society, since the date of its establishment, has been to increase the knowledge of, appreciation for, and interpretation of various types of literature; and it has at all times stressed the necessity for creativeness in all phases of its literary study.

A new plan of action for next year is under consideration. It is hoped, if this plan should be adopted, that each girl will take a more active part in the Society's programs than has been possible up until this time.

Membership has been limited to about thirty girls, who are admitted by personal application and by vote of the club. Any girl, showing by her attitude to possess an active, creative interest in literature, and who wishes to amalgamate her originality and interests with others having similar attributes, is eligible to apply for membership.

Officers elected to serve for the year were: Doris Lang, president; Mary Trowbridge, secretary-treasurer; and Nancy Cushman, program chairman.

Rollins Studio Club

THIS year the Studio Club organized itself under a new constitution. Instead of a limited membership, all those interested in any line of art were invited to attend the bi-monthly meetings. The discussions, largely centered on the appreciation of art and its value in our world today, were often lead by various invited speakers and members of the faculty.

Energy in the club's activities for the most part has been concentrated on their several "Art Marts" in Orlando. The Washington Arcade served well in giving the young artists of the college and many of their friends a chance to display their work. The Club has found pleasure in the successes of these "Marts," and plan to continue them next year.

The Studio Club was hostess to the Florida Federation of Art during its visit to Winter Park, and it plans to invite them for a second visit next year.

Art pilgrimages over the state and beach parties on Daytona Beach are among the plans being made for the club's activities for next season.

Those who held offices in the club this year were: Margaret Jaeger, President; Mary Louise Nohl, Secretary; and Elisabet Richards, Treasurer.

Le Cercle Francais

THE aim of Le Cercle Francais is to further the knowledge of France, the French people, and the literature and ideals of France. The club is a member of the Federation de l'Alliance Francais aux Etats-Unis et au Canada, which is an international organization consisting of approximately two hundred and fifty societies.

This year the officers of the club were: Sally Brown, president; Jane King, vice-president; Hughes Mellen, treasurer; Barbara Lang, secretary; and Marlen Eldredge, chairman of the program committee.

The club holds its meetings every other week and has an outside speaker of note whenever possible. It is the policy of the club to have receptions for college visitors who are particularly interested in France and French people and customs.

A great deal of interest was stimulated this year through the generosity of Mrs. Gage, who made it possible for all Rollins students to see a French motion picture of Molière's "Monsieur Pourceaugnac." The Murat celebration also added greatly to the activities of the Rollins Le Cercle Francais which should go a long way in doing its part toward establishing more understanding relationships with our European neighbors, the French.

El Circulo Espanol

EL CIRCULO ESPANOL is designed for students who manifest an interest in the language, literature, art and history of Spain. At its bi-weekly meetings, students participate in Spanish plays and games. Occasionally, talks are given by guests from Spanish-speaking countries.

The officers of the club elected for the year were: Frederick Sackett, President; Jean Fullington, Vice-President; Kathleen Shepard, Secretary, and Guilford Galbraith, Treasurer. Señora Antonia Gonzalez Lamb acted as sponsor.

The members of El Circulo Español took part in a program of entertainment at the Noyes Art Exhibit where many Spanish scenes were represented. The club made a week-end tour to Tampa in February in order to practice speaking Spanish, eat Spanish food, and see Spanish plays. It was host to the Tampa delegation of the Loyal Knights of America, a society of Spanish-speaking people organized to promote good citizenship.

Last year the Rollins Spanish Club became affiliated with El Instituto de las Españas of New York City, and took part in the annual Cervantes contest. Kathleen Shepard was the Rollins winner for 1932. This year El Circulo Español of Rollins coöperated with the other Spanish clubs of Florida in the Cervantes celebration at the Annie Russell Theatre, April 23.

The study of Spanish is of essential interest to the students of Rollins because so much of Florida's history can best be approached through the medium of the Spanish language and also because of our proximity to Spanish-speaking countries. Consequently, the Spanish club is one of the most active groups on the campus.

The German Club

FOR those who maintain an interest in the German language and people, the German Club is indeed an appropriate organization. Their informal meetings, usually held at the home of Dr. Feuerstein, are a source of pleasure to all that attend them. The real aim of the group is to foster in the students, through the agency of social group meetings, a natural fluency in conversational German. Many students have taken advantage of this marvelous opportunity to improve their vocal as well as their literary mastery of the German tongue.

The membership of the club is drawn mostly from the German classes, although there are those who attend occasionally merely because they are interested in a general way.

It has long been the policy of the club to encourage the student members to carry on the activities and to plan the meetings. Consequently, each week different members of the club take charge at the meetings. In this manner all members learn something of the formal use of the language. Impromptu plays and skits are featured at these weekly gatherings, and many amusing and clever situations are created. Besides the entertainments, discussions and reviews of recent books and plays constitute an important part of the programs. During the past year H. P. Abbott presided as president of the organization.

Christian Science

THE Christian Science Society at Rollins College was founded in January, 1932. The purpose of this worthwhile group is to bring together the faculty and students who are Christian Scientists and give them help and inspiration. The weekly meetings are not restricted to members of The Christian Science Church, however, for members of the student body or faculty who are interested are cordially invited to attend. Thus the group aims, through its meetings, to acquaint everyone with the ideals and faith of Christian Science.

Since its formation the society has held its meetings on Tuesday evening of each week. Last year the group met in the Speech Studio, but this year it has been gathering together in the Knowles Memorial Chapel. The Christian Scientists as yet are the only religious group to use the Chapel as a meeting place. During this year, foremost among its activities was the sponsoring of a talk by Dr. Lyman Powell, noted educator, philanthropist, and preacher, and author of the most recent book on the life of Mary Baker Eddy, founder of the Christian Science movement. Mr. and Mrs. Jean Jaques Pfister have been most active in fostering the movement on the Rollins Campus. Next year the Society plans to present several all-college lectures by prominent speakers in the Knowles Memorial Chapel.

The officers of the organization for this year were: Laura Eliza Windsor, president; Francis Acker, vice-president; John Moore, secretary; and Virginia Orebaugh, treasurer.

International Relations Club

The International Relations Club was established in 1923 under the auspices of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace. The purpose of the Club is to provide for the establishment and development of an intelligent public opinion concerning international affairs. This is carried out by weekly or bi-weekly meetings, where timely questions are discussed. Through the affiliation with the Carnegie Endowment the Club also receives a number of important books in International Relations each year.

This year the Club has had the opportunity of entertaining several very interesting speakers at open meetings. These have included: Dr. Thomas Chalmers of Harvard University; Dr. Chi Meng of the China Institute; Senor Mencia and Dr. Paul E. Selsam, both affiliated with the League of Nations, and Dr. John Barrett, noted figure in International affairs. The club sent Agatha Townsend, the secretary; Chandler W. Johnson, and Professor Alan P. Tory to the Tenth Annual Southeastern Conference of International Relations Clubs, held at Emory University and Agnes Scott College, Decatur, Georgia, April 20 to 22.

Liberal Club

The Liberal Club was founded in the fall of 1930 by a group of Rollins undergraduates and faculty members who desired to provide a forum for the free discussion of controversial questions both general and local. There were no requirements for membership, no regular times for meeting, no dues or any other formalities. Officers call meetings when occasion seems to demand. These meetings are always open to anyone wishing to attend. The purpose of the organization is to promote free discussion and to keep alive the liberal spirit at Rollins.

The most important activity of the club this year has been the raising of forty dollars from the faculty and student body sent to aid the legal defense of the Kentucky miners, under the auspices of the American Civil Liberties Union.

Officers are: president, John S. Gehrmann, and secretary, Agatha Townsend.

Fraternities

Fraternities

FRATERNAL organizations are as old as history. In former times men banded together to face the unknown. Masonry was founded during the perils of the Middle Ages. Today fraternities are formed not to combat vague terrors, but to present a happy unified front to the years of college life, and to allow the student to share his experiences with others, rather than travel an unlightened path alone.

The thrills of rushing, pledging and initiating are an integral part of the college program. The firm bonds of friendship that are born in collegiate fraternities do not end with the close of the senior year, but continue through the years until the "grim reaper" snuffs out the last spark of life. There are six fraternity groups on the Rollins campus waiting to welcome new men, and to kindle the Rollins spirit in them to an even higher and finer flame.

Kappa Alpha Order

THE Kappa Alpha Order was founded at Washington and Lee University, December 21, 1865. It soon attained the reputation of being a first-class southern fraternity; and on December 12, 1927, the Alpha Psi Chapter of Kappa Alpha Order was established on the campus. The motto on its crest read: "Dieu et les Dames"; the colors selected were Crimson and Old Gold, and the flowers Magnolia and Red Rose.

Since the date of its installation, the Alpha Psi Chapter of Kappa Alpha Order has been predominant in practically every field of campus activity. During the past year, under the presidency of George H. Carrison, members of K. A. have participated with outstanding success in varsity football,

Its membership at present includes thirty-three "southern gentlemen, Suh," coming from sections of the southern part of the United States as widely diversified as the border of the Mason and Dixon Line will allow, and united under the ideals of chivalry, congeniality, service, and loyalty.

Seniors in the present membership list are George Carrison, Will Rogers, Donald Fisher, Robert Stevenson, Phil Horton, and Ed Cruger. These men have all achieved significant records at Rollins, five of them having been members of O.D.K. since the beginning of their junior years.

Theta Kappa Nu

THE Florida Alpha Chapter of the Theta Kappa Nu Fraternity was the outgrowth of Tau Lambda Delta, the first men's fraternity on the Rollins campus. It was installed in 1924 mainly through the efforts of Dean Winslow Anderson, one of the four founders of Theta Kappa Nu. The first chapter house was located in the former president's house, which is now Sparrell Hall. Faculty members are: Winslow S. Anderson, E. F. Weinberg, and Jack W. McDowall.

This year the chapter moved to 373 East Comstock Avenue, with Mrs. James E. Bartlett as house mother for the third consecutive year. Only six members were able to return this year, but eleven other men have been pledged. The executive offices at the beginning of the year were held by Allan Stoddard as Archon and Treasurer, and Frank Wetherell as Oracle.

In spite of the small number of members this year, Theta Kappa Nu has kept on top in the Intra-mural Tournament, finishing the year in third place. The Theta Nu's are also well represented in other athletics, publications, clubs, and many other extra-curricular activities. Besides leadership in campus events, it is the second ranking scholastic fraternity on the campus, having been but barely pushed out of first honors for the Scholarship Cup. Many house parties and smokers were given for visiting alumni and friends at various times in the year. The members graduating are Jack Fisher and Stanley Todd.

The present executive officers are: Frank Wetherell, Archon; Allan Stoddard, Treasurer; and Stuart Eaton, Oracle. Other officers are: Earl Beekman, Chaplain; Anthony Merrill, Captain of the Guard; and Milford Davis, Scribe.

Kappa Phi Sigma

IN 1926 there were only two men's fraternities at Rollins College. One of these was at the time made up largely from the athletic group of students, and the other was just as completely social.

During the fall of that year a group of students which did not seem to fit into either of the above were drawn together, and finding themselves naturally congenial, they decided to form a club. On February 13, 1927, they announced the organization of a club of twelve members, which met in dormitory rooms for the remainder of the year. This club became the Greek letter fraternity, Kappa Phi Sigma, in the spring.

The following year a house was rented on the shore of Lake Virginia and the organization was admitted to the Interfraternity Council. Growth of the fraternity has been steady and its prestige has increased each year. It has been successful in competition on the campus and has made a place for itself in athletic and social activities.

The fraternity has been very fortunate in the selection of its honorary members, which include: Dr. Charles A. Rollins, donor of Rollins Dormitory for men; Mr. Cornelius A. Pugsley, donor of Pugsley Dormitory for girls; Hon. W. R. O'Neal; Mr. Fred C. Allen, member of Georgia Alpha of Phi Delta Theta; and Mr. Ray Stannard Baker, well-known author and a member of Phi Delta Theta at Amherst.

Kappa Phi Sigma owns its own chapter house, which is built in a modified Spanish style, two stories high. It is pleasantly located near the lake and close enough to the campus for convenience.

Kingsley Karnopp as president, Brewster Durkee as vice-president, William Woodhull as secretary, and Donald Berry as treasurer have ably led the fraternity through a happy and prosperous year.

“X” Club

THE “X” Club was founded at Rollins College in 1928 with the purpose of organizing a club for those men whose fraternities were not represented on the campus. From such small beginning, the “X” Club has grown to be today one of the first ranking organizations of the campus.

The Club’s membership roll has increased to over twenty activities. This year, being represented by its members in almost every phase of extra-curricular activity, the club won the Gary Trophy, symbolical to the winning of the Intra-mural Sport Championship. Besides the Gary Trophy, they won other intra-mural cups in the following activities: Touch Football, Tennis Singles, Tennis Doubles, Basketball, and Swimming.

The activities of the club, however, extend not only to sports but also to the publications and student government positions. Several of its mem-

It is the hope of the organization that next year it will rise to an even higher level than it has in the past.

The officers of the club for the year were: T. William Miller, President; Bucklin R. Moon, Vice-President; and Frank Ripley Parsons, Treasurer. Mr. S. H. Bingham and Mr. R. W. France are the faculty advisors.

Delta Rho Gamma

DELTA RHO GAMMA, organized in the fall of 1930 by a group of ten students living in Chase Hall, petitioned the college to function as a fraternity on October 24, 1930. Four days later the administration officially sanctioned the movement, and Delta Rho Gamma made its first appearance on the Rollins campus as a fraternity.

The colors selected by the fraternity were black and gold, and its motto: "Vitam Impendere Vero."

Since its founding, Delta Rho Gamma has occupied two chapter houses, the Newby home at 391 West Fairbanks Avenue, and its present location on the corner of Fairbanks and New York Avenues.

Professor Harry Pierce of the Rollins Public Speaking Department, and Professor Cecil Oldham of the History Department, are the faculty members and advisers of the organization. Mr. Larry Lynch was elected to honorary membership.

To keep the cup in its possession, Delta Rho Gamma will have to continue to place first in the scholastic rating among the fraternities.

Some of the social events of the year included the annual fraternity banquet in the Perrydell Tea Room of Orlando, an informal smoker at the home of Larry Lynch, and several other social functions of like nature.

The fraternity wholeheartedly entered into nearly every branch of athletic service, and it also had excellent representation in student publications, honor societies, and other leading campus organizations.

Rho Lambda Nu

On November 27, 1930, in Chase Hall Dormitory, Rho Lambda Nu fraternity was founded. The charter members were: Charles Watts, Philip Boardman, Franklin Cobb, Donald Adams, Wenzel Brown, Olive Lodge, Fredric Welling, and Victor Miller. The faculty sponsors were Dr. Thomas P. Bailey and Fleetwood Peeples.

Although the organization has been rather small in size, it has developed in numerous other ways. It has always stressed a high moral and cultural standard for its members. Its members have been picked because of their character and personality. During 1931-32, the group grew until it had eleven members at the end of the college year. Good teams from the fraternity were entered in intra-mural basketball, in volleyball, tennis and swimming competitions. Several members made varsity teams during the year.

The fraternity was greatly handicapped in the fall of 1932 because only four of the eleven members returned to college. However, the group withstood the test in good spirit, and by the end of the Spring Term had added four new men to its membership roll. At the present time there are eight active members in the organization. Bob Fuchs was elected to serve his second term in the chair as president of the fraternity.

During 1932-33, Rho Lambda Nu entered strong teams in intra-mural events, and placed third in the annual intra-mural swimming meet. One of its members was selected for the varsity baseball team, one was on the crew, two on the swimming team, and three received scholastic honors by their election to Pi Gamma Mu, the national social science fraternity.

Rho Lambda Nu will offer a trophy at the end of each year for the young man at Rollins showing most improvement in all fields of endeavor.

Sororities

THE seven National Panhellenic Sororities on the Rollins Campus uphold the Panhellenic Creed:

We, the fraternity undergraduate members, stand for good scholarship, for the guardians of good health, for whole-hearted cooperation with our college's ideals for student life, for the maintenance of fine social standards and the serving, to the best of our ability, our college community. Good college citizenship as a preparation for good citizenship in the larger world of alumnae days is the ideal that shall guide our chapter activities.

We, the fraternity alumnae members, stand for an active, sympathetic interest in the life of our undergraduate sisters, for the loyal support of the ideals of our Alma Mater, for the encouragement of high scholarship, for the maintenance of healthful physical conditions in the chapter-house and dormitory, and for using our influence to further the best standards for the education of the young women of America. Loyal service to chapter, college and community is the ideal that shall guide our fraternity activities.

We, the fraternity officers, stand for loyal and earnest work for the realization of these fraternity standards. Cooperation for the maintenance of fraternity life in harmony with its best possibilities is the ideal that shall guide our fraternity activities.

We, the fraternity women of America, stand for preparation for service through character building inspired in the close contact and deep friendship of fraternity life. To us, fraternity life is not the enjoyment of special privileges but an opportunity to prepare for wide and wise human service.

Phi Mu

THE Phi Mu Sorority was founded in Wesleyan College, Macon, Georgia, January 4, 1852, the second oldest secret organization for women in the United States.

The Alpha Omega Chapter of Phi Mu was installed on the Rollins campus in September, 1929. Previous to its installation, it was the Alpha Omega Sorority, a local organization.

During the past year the members of Phi Mu have been very prominent in numerous activities, representing the chapter in all types of athletics, honor societies, publications, and other extra-curricular activities. For the last three years, as a recognition of the women's part in sports, the Chapter has presented an athletic trophy to the best girl athlete in the Upper Division who has earned her "R."

Pi Beta Phi

PI BETA PHI Fraternity was founded at Monmouth College, Monmouth, Illinois, in 1867, under the name of I. C. Sorosis. Several years later the members of this local group decided to expand and therefore installed a chapter in another college, and at that time the present name of Pi Beta Phi was taken. Pi Beta Phi was the first national woman's fraternity.

The Florida Gamma Chapter was installed at Rollins in the fall of 1929. The officers of this chapter for 1932-33 were: President, Martha Davenport; Vice-President, Dadrina Knowlton; Corresponding Secretary, Elinor Estes; Censors, Caroline Foster and Harriet Hiller. The fraternity colors are Wine and Silver Blue, and the flower is the Wine Carnation.

educate and advance the mountaineers. It has become a custom for the Rollins Chapter each year to sponsor a benefit bridge, the proceeds of which to go to this school.

This year the Pi Phis have been active in many campus activities. They have taken part in athletics, in the various classes as class officers, on the Student Council, the Sandspur and the Publications Union. The members of the Girls' Debating Team were composed of members from this fraternity.

Each year Florida Gamma gives the first prize in the Sprague Oratorical Contest which takes place sometime in May. It gives a Christmas party for one or two families who cannot afford to give their children a happy Christmas.

Pi Beta Phi also has scholarships and fellowships which are distributed every year.

Kappa Kappa Gamma

THE Delta Epsilon Chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma was established on the campus January 8, 1932. Before this date, the group enjoyed the distinction of being one of the oldest Greek-letter organizations in Florida, and was called Kappa Epsilon.

Kappa Kappa Gamma is one of the outstanding national women's fraternities, having seventy active chapters and one hundred and eight alumnae organizations throughout the country. It was founded at Monmouth College, Monmouth, Illinois, in 1870.

This year the Kappa Kappa Gamma Chapter has sponsored two very successful benefits, the first of which was a musical comedy, written and directed by one of the members. The second was a tea dance given at the Alabama Hotel. The money received from these benefits was sent to the head office of the National Organization, and was added to a scholarship fund, which is used for worthy purposes.

Alpha Phi

ALPHA PHI INTERNATIONAL FRATERNITY was founded at Syracuse University, Syracuse, New York, on October 10, 1872. For sixty years the expansion policy has been one of conservatism, the purpose being to concentrate upon the existing chapters rather than to establish new ones. The present chapter roll consists of thirty-five active chapters and fifty-four alumnae chapters.

Alpha Phi has always been a leader in the Greek world. On May 24, 1902, it called the first Inter-sorority Conference at Chicago. A similar group had met previous to this, but it was not until the Chicago Conference that a constitution was drawn up and definite plans laid out. Until 1886 no woman's fraternity had built a chapter house, but in this year it was Alpha Phi's privilege to take the initiative, and erect at the mother chapter at Syracuse the first house owned by a Greek letter sorority. Alpha Phi was also the first woman's fraternity to have a visiting delegate system, which was later used by many fraternities; the first to establish an endowment fund, and the first to publish a history of the first fifty years.

Alpha Phi maintains a Loan Fund for the purpose of assisting in the building of chapter houses and helping individual students who need financial aid in order to complete their college course.

Alpha Phi

Publications of the fraternity include the Alpha Phi Quarterly, the History, the Song Book, and the Alpha Phi Directory. The Flowers are the lily-of-the-valley and the forget-me-not. The colors are Bordeaux and Silver-Gray.

The local chapter was granted a charter in the spring of 1931, under a new system of colonization. Having investigated Rollins, and finding it a desirable place for a chapter of Alpha Phi, the extension committee appointed a number of prominent alumnae and officers of the fraternity to select, in secret, a group of girls as prospective charter members of the chapter. Twelve girls were chosen, and on May 16, 1931, were granted a charter. This was the first chapter to be established in the South. Since that time another charter has been granted at a southern college, the University of Alabama.

During the past year, a breakfast for the pledges of the campus, a formal Christmas dance and a reception for the faculty have been the main events. Informal teas for patronesses and friends have been held from time to time.

Gamma Phi Beta

THE international sorority of Gamma Phi Beta was founded at the University of Syracuse on November 11, 1874. The four founders were Helen M. Dodge, Francis Haven Moss, Mary A. Bingham, and E. A. Curtis, of which Francis Haven Moss is the only one living today. The sorority is proud of their many traditions started by this group of four girls and now in each of the forty-four chapters; the idea is to maintain its standards to the best of our ability.

In the beginning the Gamma Phi Beta colors were light blue, but in honor of Professor Brown at the University of Syracuse, whose helpful services were rendered to the sorority, the colors were changed to double brown. This sorority maintains two camps for under-privileged children, one in Denver, Colorado, the other in Vancouver, Canada.

At the golden anniversary convention in 1924 an endowment fund of $54,000 was established.

In the spring of 1928, Alpha Mu chapter of Gamma Phi Beta was installed in Rollins college. Soon after the Panhellenic council on campus was started and the first presidency of this local council was held by a Gamma Phi. Also in 1932 the presidency was held by a member of this sorority.

Alpha Mu offers a cash prize to the girl who has the highest scholarship record in economics. The object of the prize, which is awarded at commencement, is to encourage interest in this field among women students. The chapter also offers a trophy to the sorority or dormitory winning the volleyball tournament. Permanent possession may be obtained by winning the trophy three consecutive years.

The Gamma Phis, this year, have been active on, as well as off, campus, and have been represented in all student publications. Next year a Gamma Phi will hold the office of editor of the Tomokan. The two women editors have been Gamma Phis.

The members are interested in all extra-curricular activities, clubs, dramatics, athletics and committees. This year we had the honor of entertaining our Grand President, Mrs. M. L. Hoffman, from Minneapolis, and Miss A. Holmes, province director of province eight. In the last year the Orlando-Winter Park alumnae chapter was formed, and after Christmas a benefit bridge was given. This year four of our members are graduating. Every Friday during the last year a social tea was given at the attractive 1932-33 Gamma Phi Beta house on 503 West Interlachen Avenue.

Chi Omega

CHI OMEGA, a national organization, was founded April 5, 1895, at the University of Arkansas, Fayetteville, Arkansas. The founders of the fraternity were: Dr. Charles Richardson, member of Kappa Sigma, a men's fraternity, Ina May Boles, Jean Vincenheller, Alice Simonds and Jobelle Holcombe.

The fraternity today numbers eighty-seven chapters in colleges and universities in forty-one of the forty-eight states of the Union.

The open declaration of Chi Omega is "Christian ideals and Hellenic culture," its flower is the white carnation, and its colors are cardinal and straw.

An interesting project of the fraternity, nationally, has been the creation of the National Achievement Award, a medal bestowed annually upon an American woman who has made an "unusual contribution to the culture of the world." The medal was first awarded at the 1932 convention held in White Sulphur Springs, West Virginia, to Dr. Florence Sabin for outstanding achievement in the field of science. The second medal was awarded in April, 1933, to Miss Cecelia Beaux, the "grand old lady of the Arts."

Chi Omega

In 1929, Lambda Phi, a local at Rollins, petitioned Chi Omega for a chapter. The petition was accepted early in 1931, and on January 6 the Upsilon Beta Chapter was officially installed on the Rollins campus by two of the national officers.

Six of the seventeen charter members are still in the chapter and include: Jean Fullington, Betty Lynch and Beth Cutter, all of whom are in the graduating class; and Betty Childs, Mona Graessle and Olive Dickson, of the class of 1934.

The officers for 1932-33 were: President, Thelma VanBuskirk; Vice-President, Mona Graessle; Secretary, Virginia McCall; Treasurer, Beth Cutter; Pledge Supervisor, Olive Dickson, and Chapter Correspondent, Betty Lynch.

Upsilon Beta, as a part of the national policy of encouraging and recognizing "creditable and sincere scholarship" and "a healthy participation in campus activities," gives annually an award of twenty-five dollars to a girl in the Upper Division whose scholarship is outstanding, and whose conduct and participation in campus activities are noteworthy. The award is presented by a committee composed of Dean Anderson, Dean Bingham, Mrs. Cass, and two Senior representatives of the fraternity.

Kappa Alpha Theta

KAPPA ALPHA THETA was founded in 1870 at De Pauw University, Greencastle, Ind. Theta now has sixty-four active chapters in the United States and Canada and is one of the seven original members of the National Panhellenic Congress. The last of these sixty-four to be granted a charter was the Gamma Gamma chapter at Rollins. Upon invitation from Dr. Holt and from interest in the Rollins Plan, the decision to add the Rollins chapter was made at the national convention of Kappa Alpha Theta last summer at Estes Park, Colorado, when the charter grant was made. Colonization, "the modern, scientific method of extension," was approved as the system to follow. This included opening of a chapter house, assembling a group which would make a representative Theta chapter, organizing it, and finally installing it.

Mrs. Yale B. Huffman of Broken Bow, Nebraska, came to Winter Park, authorized by grand council to act as general organizer and housemother. Mrs. Huffman was formerly grand treasurer and later grand president of Theta. braska, and Ruth Jeanne Bellamy and Rosamond Carson were the nucleus of the colonizing group. On bidding day Theta pledged eleven girls. Later in the year three more pledges were added to the group.

On January 28 at noon the colonizing group was installed as the Gamma Gamma Chapter of Kappa Alpha Theta. Services were held in the chapter house. Nine chapters through fifty-two representatives, including the daughter of Founder Alice Allen Brant, Edith Brant Travis, took part in the ceremonies. Of the grand council Mrs. Purd B. Wright, grand vice-president, and Miss L. Pearle Green, grand secretary, were present. The installation luncheon was held at the Winter Park Whistling Kettle. Festivities closed with a reception and dance at the Winter Park Women's Club to which the college was invited.

The officers for 1933-34 are: Annajeane Pendexter, president; Mary Katharine Huffman, vice-president; Mary Virginia Taylor, recording secretary; Sally Limerick, corresponding secretary, and Katharine Rice, treasurer.

Take care of the MAN IN THE MIRROR, too

Advantages of Retirement Income and Life Insurance combined in new Equitable policy.

Of course you want to provide for your dependents, in case anything happens to you. But what about providing for yourself in case it doesn't? A considerable cash sum or a retirement income at age 65 (or earlier) would be mighty comforting, wouldn't it?

The Equitable's new OPTIONAL RETIREMENT POLICY enables you to take care of everybody concerned, including the man in the mirror. Features of this unusual offer are:

1. Immediate life insurance protection for your family.
2. At the age you have selected for retirement, a life income to be paid to you, or jointly to you and your wife and two-thirds to the survivor; or
3. At age 65, fully paid up life insurance paying you dividends, also a cash payment to you of $266 for each $1000 of insurance; or
4. At age 65, payment to you in cash of the full face amount of the policy.

Living too long ...dying too soon

From a financial standpoint, there is always the danger of a person's either living too long, or of his dying too soon. The Optional Retirement Policy covers both contingencies. You reach old age with an assured income, which continues month by month even if you pass the century mark; whereas if your life should be cut short, the insurance element provides for your family.
